MOTHER EARTH UNDER THREAT
Ecofeminism, the Land Question, and Bioengineering
Ana Isla and Claudia von Werthof, Eds.

Currently, geoengineering is threatening not only life on earth, but the earth and all her "living systems." Exposing and critiquing the new technological ability to influence macro systems like the climate itself, ocean currents, temperatures, humidity, droughts, the atmosphere, and more, as well as the destruction that has already taken place, beginning with the effects of thousands of nuclear tests that have occurred worldwide, and, in addition, the transformation of the earths "energies" into weapons of total destruction — mother earth as a weapon of war! — are the major themes under consideration in this volume.

WOMEN IN A GLOBALIZING WORLD
Transforming Equality, Development, Diversity and Peace
Angela Miles, Ed.

Authors offer ground-breaking work in this collection that brings together almost seventy articles by formative feminist writers, researchers, activists and visionaries to illuminate the profound globalizing processes of our time. Critical analyses of current globalization and possible alternatives are presented in the context of global feminist dialogue and activism since the 1980s. Together, the articles provide a comprehensive overview of the agenda and processes of neo-liberal globalization; women's activist responses to the consequent environmental and social destruction; and visionary feminist alternatives and worldviews. 9781926708195 $39.95

A FORCE SUCH AS THE WORLD HAS NEVER KNOWN
Women Creating Change
Sharon G. Mijares, Aliaa Rafea and Nahid Angha, Eds.

This is a unique collection of narratives from women from all around the globe. This accumulation of women's stories reveals the role of women in creating needed changes in areas of health and nutrition, supporting efforts toward sustainable environments, promoting political and social rights, protecting women from the travesties of war and rape and promoting religious diversity and better conditions for all beings. 9781771330565 $34.95

SOCIETIES OF PEACE
Matriarchies Past Present and Future
Heide Goettner-Abendroth, Ed.

Matriarchal societies, primarily shaped by women, have a non-violent social order in which all living creatures are respected without the exploitation of humans, animals, or nature. They are well-balanced and peaceful societies in which domination is unknown and all beings are treated equally. This book presents these largely misunderstood societies, both past and present, to the wider public, as alternative social and cultural models that promote trust, mutuality, and abundance for all. 9780978223359 $39.95

WOMEN AND THE GIFT ECONOMY
A Radically Different Worldview is Possible
Genevieve Vaughan, Ed.

Featuring articles by well-known feminist activists and academics, this book points to ways to re-create the connections, which have been severed, between the gift economy, women, and the economies of Indigenous peoples, and to bring forward the gift paradigm as an approach to liberate us from the worldview of the market that is destroying life on the planet. Shifting to a gift paradigm can give us the radically different worldview which will make another, better, world possible. 97800736760974 $39.95
